

REGIONALITY IS VERY IMPORTANT FOR US AND PROVIDES QUALITY!

By working together with producers and farmers who have been well known to us for many years, as well as the knowledge of their local conditions, we can guarantee a consistently high quality of the food used in our kitchen. By purchasing regional produce, we support our farmers in maintaining and preserving their fields, meadows and forests. The result is the unique flora and fauna that has made our region so liveable and endearing for many generations.
